Ms.

WA

Dear Ms.:

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission forwarded me your complaint that the uniform fabric worn by Alaska Airlines flight attendants is contaminated with a chemical called TBP.

The Federal Aviation Administration’s (FAA) primary responsibilities are aviation safety, airspace efficiency, and capacity enhancements. The FAA has no jurisdiction in employee injury claims not directly related to flight operations. I have forwarded your letter to the Department of Labor’s Occupational Safety and Health Administration at the following address:

Department of Labor
Occupational Safety and Health Administration
Executive Secretariat
200 Constitution Avenue, NW., Room S2315
Washington, DC 20210

I am confident that you will receive a prompt response to your concerns.

Sincerely,

Mary L. Jefferson
Director, Executive Secretariat
